Batten Sectional Garage Door

Batten Sectional Garage Doors are a premium choice for homeowners seeking a combination of sleek design, durability and functionality. The batten design, crafted from high-quality aluminum or steel, offers a modern yet versatile aesthetic, seamlessly complementing both contemporary and traditional architectural styles.

Available in various profiles — including Horizontal and Vertical battens — these doors bring a refined and stylish finish to any property. Custom batten layouts can be mounted on durable aluminum frames to match your home's exterior cladding, creating a cohesive and sophisticated look.

Designed to withstand diverse environmental conditions, Batten Sectional Garage Doors are low-maintenance and engineered for long-term performance, ensuring they remain a lasting and attractive investment for years to come.
